The Problem

A Fragmented B2B Asset Market

In Egypt, businesses with surplus, used, obsolete, or no-longer-needed assets often struggle to sell them in an organized and efficient way.

Selling these assets often depends on personal networks, brokers, traders, or disconnected marketplaces — making it difficult to reach the right buyers and recover true asset value.

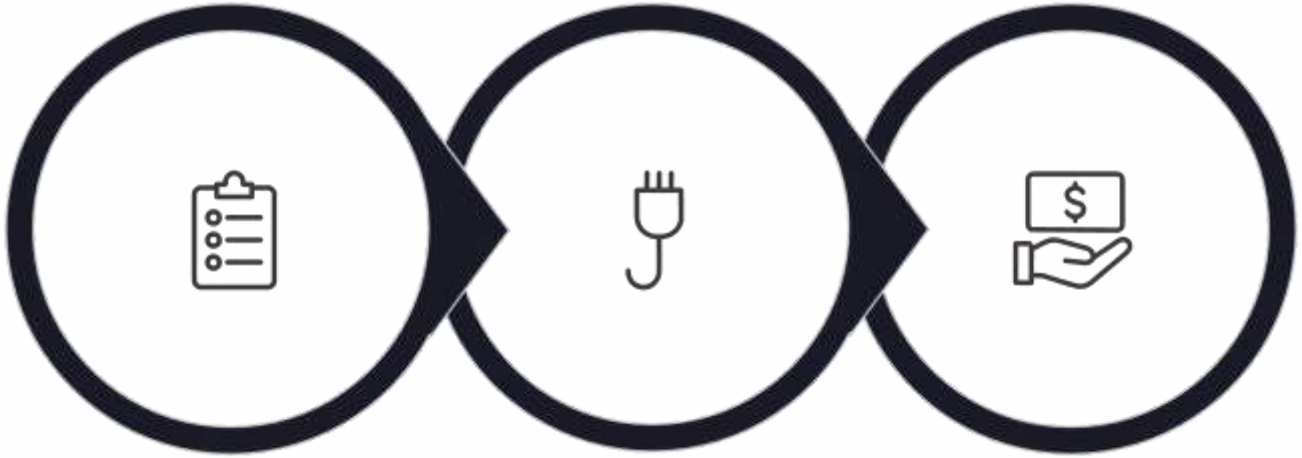

At the same time, companies looking to acquire business assets at lower costs struggle to find suitable products, compare options, and identify reliable corporate sellers.

⚠ This creates a fragmented B2B asset market with limited connection between corporate supply and demand.

Made with GAMMA

The Solution

A centralized B2B Asset Marketplace that connects companies looking to sell their surplus or used assets with companies looking to acquire them.

List Assets Connect Transact

The platform makes B2B asset transactions more organized, accessible, and efficient for all parties involved.
